As a result of your administrative appeal to the Office of Information Policy (OIP), Department of Justice (DOJ), additional material was located responsive to your request. Enclosed is a processed copy of the documents.

Based on the information you provided, we conducted a main and reference entity record search of the Central Records System (CRS) per our standard search policy. For more information about records searches and the standard search policy, see the enclosed FBI FOIPA Addendum General Information Section.

This is the final release of information responsive to your FOIPA request. This material is being provided to you at no charge.

Records that may have been responsive to your request were destroyed. Since this material could not be reviewed, it is not known if it was responsive to your request. Record retention and disposal is carried out under supervision of the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA), Title 44, United States Code, Section 3301 as implemented by Title 36, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 1228; Title 44, United States Code, Section 3310 as implemented by Title 36, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 1229.10.

Records that may be responsive to your Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts (FOIPA) request has been transferred to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA). If you wish to review these records, submit a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request to NARA, Special Access and FOIA, 8601 Adelphi Road, Room 5500, College Park, MD 20740-6001. Please reference the file numbers 100-HQ-252913 Ser 48, 100-HQ-439048 Ser 3739-ENCLP127, and 9-HQ-65785.

For your information, a search of the indices to our Central Records System reflected there were additional records potentially responsive to your Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts (FOIPA) request. We have attempted to obtain this material so it could be reviewed to determine whether it was responsive to your request. We were advised that the potentially responsive records were not in their expected location and could not be located after a reasonable search. Following a reasonable waiting period, another attempt was made to obtain this material. This search for the missing records also met with unsuccessful results.

Please refer to the enclosed FBI FOIPA Addendum for additional standard responses applicable to your request. "Part 1" of the Addendum includes standard responses that apply to all requests. "Part 2" includes additional standard responses that apply to all requests for records about yourself or any third party individuals. "Part 3" includes general information about FBI records that you may find useful. Also enclosed is our Explanation of Exemptions.

FBI FOIPA Addendum

As referenced in our letter responding to your Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts (FOIPA) request, the FBI FOIPA Addendum provides information applicable to your request. Part 1 of the Addendum includes standard responses that apply to all requests. Part 2 includes standard responses that apply to requests for records about individuals to the extent your request seeks the listed information. Part 3 includes general information about FBI records, searches, and programs.

Part 1: The standard responses below apply to all requests:

- (i) 5 U.S.C. § 552(c). Congress excluded three categories of law enforcement and national security records from the requirements of the FOIPA [5 U.S.C. § 552(c)]. FBI responses are limited to those records subject to the requirements of the FOIPA. Additional information about the FBI and the FOIPA can be found on the www.fbi.gov/foia website.
- (ii) Intelligence Records. To the extent your request seeks records of intelligence sources, methods, or activities, the FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3), and as applicable to requests for records about individuals, PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(1), (b)(3), and (j)(2)]. The mere acknowledgment of the existence or nonexistence of such records is itself a classified fact protected by FOIA exemption (b)(1) and/or would reveal intelligence sources, methods, or activities protected by exemption (b)(3) [50 USC § 3024(i)(1)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that any such records do or do not exist.

Part 2: The standard responses below apply to all requests for records on individuals:

- (i) Requests for Records about any Individual—Watch Lists. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of any individual's name on a watch list pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(7)(E) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(7)(E), (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that watch list records do or do not exist.
- (ii) Requests for Records about any Individual—Witness Security Program Records. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records which could identify any participant in the Witness Security Program pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(3), 18 U.S.C. 3521, and (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.
- (iii) Requests for Confidential Informant Records. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of confidential informant records pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(7)(D), (b)(7)(E), and (b)(7)(F) [5 U.S.C.§ § 552 (b)(7)(D), (b)(7)(E), and (b)(7)(F)] and Privacy Act exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C.§ 552a (j)(2)]. The mere acknowledgment of the existence or nonexistence of such records would reveal confidential informant identities and information, expose law enforcement techniques, and endanger the life or physical safety of individuals. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.

Part 3: General Information:

- (i) Record Searches and Standard Search Policy. The Record/Information Dissemination Section (RIDS) searches for reasonably described records by searching systems, such as the Central Records System (CRS), or locations where responsive records would reasonably be found. The CRS is an extensive system of records consisting of applicant, investigative, intelligence, personnel, administrative, and general files compiled by the FBI per its law enforcement, intelligence, and administrative functions. The CRS spans the entire FBI organization, comprising records of FBI Headquarters, FBI Field Offices, and FBI Legal Attaché Offices (Legats) worldwide; Electronic Surveillance (ELSUR) records are included in the CRS. The standard search policy is a search for main entity records in the CRS. Unless specifically requested, a standard search does not include a search for reference entity records, administrative records of previous FOIPA requests, or civil litigation files.
 - a. Main Entity Records created for individuals or non-individuals who are the subjects or the focus of an investigation
 - b. Reference Entity Records- created for individuals or non-individuals who are associated with a case but are not known subjects or the focus of an investigation
- (ii) FBI Records. Founded in 1908, the FBI carries out a dual law enforcement and national security mission. As part of this dual mission, the FBI creates and maintains records on various subjects; however, the FBI does not maintain records on every person, subject, or entity.
- (iii) Foreseable Harm Standard. As amended in 2016, the Freedom of Information Act provides that a federal agency may withhold responsive records only if: (1) the agency reasonably foresees that disclosure would harm an interest protected by one of the nine exemptions that FOIA enumerates, or (2) disclosure is prohibited by law (5 United States Code, Section 552(a)(8)(A)(i)). The FBI considers this foreseeable harm standard in the processing of its requests.
- (iv) Requests for Criminal History Records or Rap Sheets. The Criminal Justice Information Services (CJIS) Division provides Identity History Summary Checks often referred to as a criminal history record or rap sheet. These criminal history records are not the same as material in an investigative "FBI file." An Identity History Summary Check is a listing of information taken from fingerprint cards and documents submitted to the FBI in connection with arrests, federal employment, naturalization, or military service. For a fee, individuals can request a copy of their Identity History Summary Check. Forms and directions can be accessed at www.edo.cjis.gov/about-us/cjis/identity-history-summary-checks. Additionally, requests can be submitted electronically at www.edo.cjis.gov. For additional information, please contact CJIS directly at (304) 625-5590.

Caspar W Weinberger, Secretary of Defense, was interviewed in his office at the Pentagon, Arlington, Virginia. Accompanying Weinberger was General Council William Howard Taft, IV. Weinberger was advised of the official and personal identities of the interviewing agents and that the interview concerned how Carter Debate Briefing materials came into the possession of Reagan Campaign Headquarters in Arlington, Virginia, during the Presidential Campaign of 1980. Weinberger thereafter provided the following information:

From March 11, 1968, to December 31, 1969, Weinberger was Director of Finance for the State of California under Governor Ronald Reagan. He then worked for a period of six months during 1970, as Chairman of the Federal Trade Commission (FTC). He then became Deputy Director of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), and eventually became Director of OMB. He was also Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW), until 1975, when he went to work for the Bechtel Corporation in San Francisco, California.

Weinberger was a delegate to the Republican National Convention during the Presidential Campaign of 1980. He was requested by Ronald Reagan to work on matters dealing with reducing domestic Federal Government expenditures. He wrote speeches and drew up drafts for Reagan regarding this issue. Most of the information Weinberger provided to the Reagan Campaign came by way of telephone calls he placed to such people as Ed Meese, Bill Casey, or Marty Anderson. He only visited Reagan Campaign Headquarters in Arlington once or twice, when he visited Meese.

Weinberger had no specific input into the debate material being prepared by the Reagan Campaign. Some of the material which he wrote for speeches might have been used, however, he had no knowledge of this.

Weinberger did attend one debate rehearsal for the Carter/Reagan Debate, at Wexford, Virginia. He believed that it was on the Saturday before the actual debate, which was held on a Tuesday. His participation in the debate rehearsal was to sit in the audience and listen to the responses given by David Stockman and Reagan to certain questions. He would then comment on the answers given and possibly suggest different ones. From his position in the audience, he was not able to see the podium, thus was not able to see whether or not Stockman or Reagan had any briefing book. He believes that they may have had notes for their opening remarks, but that he believes that the rules were eventually changed and they were not allowed to use the notes. Of the people who were asking Stockman and Reagan questions, he cannot remember them referring to any written materials.

Weinberger did not know of the Carter Debate Briefing material being in the Reagan Campaign until a few months ago when the issue surfaced in the media. He probably would remember it had he known about it. He knew of no "mole" or "source" within the Carter White House or Campaign supplying information to the Reagan Campaign.

Weinberger was asked by the interviewing agents whether or not there were any questions that he was not asked which might be of value regarding this investigation, to which he responded there was not.

Honorable William H. Webster Director Federal Bureau of Investigation Washington, D.C. 20537

Dear Judge Webster,

The Department of Defense requests about one million FBI Headquarters and Identification Division file searches each year. Approximately 25% of these represent the NAC element of a full field background investigation. In the last few months, delays in FBI Headquarters file checks have had an impact on the DoD personnel security program by extending the time required to complete DoD NACs. Since October 1983, both the time to complete the checks and the FBI backlog of DoD requests for file searches have risen; times have increased 50% while the backlog has gone from 60,000 to 93,000. This is of considerable concern to the DoD both from a cost and an operational readiness standpoint.

In 1981, the General Accounting Office estimated that it cost industry $43 per day for each employee unable to work on the classified portion of a government contract while awaiting clearance. Current costs would be considerably over that today. In view of the volume of clearances involved, the cost of delays can run into the millions. This cost, of course, is passed on to the government as a contract expense. Similarly, the impact on DoD military and civilian personnel is seen in delays in training and assignments which adversely affect operational readiness.

Recently, representatives of my Counterintelligence and Investigative Programs Office met with your staff regarding FBI file searches. We understand that the Summer Olympics, the Democratic and Republican Conventions and the World's Fair have greatly increased your workload. In an effort to alleviate the situation, we have instructed the Defense Investigative Service not to submit tracers for file searches until 90 days have elapsed from the initial request - vice 60 days. Additionally, we have agreed to a moratorium on see reference checks until 1 October 1984. Your staff advises that these two actions should significantly reduce the number of searches and eliminate those searches which are among the most time intensive, the "see references".

Our working relationship with all of your staff has been excellent, particularly Messrs.

and ______ We appreciate their continued outstanding support to DoD programs. And, although I understand the workload/resource problems you are facing, I do wish to convey my concern over the impact on DoD security and operational readiness resulting from the increasing delays in completion of FBI record checks. We will, of course, continue to work closely with your staff to seek additional economies in our mutual undertakings.

Sincerely,

Richard G. Stilwell General, USA (Ret.) Deputy
